DEDICATION

Miss Hunter supports the team at a pep rally.

MISS CLYDE HUNTER

The halls at Ralph L. Fike High School are deserted. Voices can be heard coming from a single room. Yes, Miss Clyde Hunter is still at work, helping a student. Patience—understanding—devotion—these qualities, essential for a good teacher, describe Miss Hunter. She shows untiring patience in helping students in their search for knowledge of mathematics. She understands that everyone has weaknesses, and she devotes herself to strengthening students in these areas. Miss Hunter dedicates herself to quality education. In turn, we dedicate the 1964 ACCOLADE with much admiration to Miss Clyde Hunter.

"Your answer is found on the D scale." Miss Hunter instructs a class in the use of the slide rule.

MR. GEORGE S. WILLARD
*Superintendent of City Schools
 Secretary of Board of Education*

MR. J. R. WALTERS
Assistant Superintendent of City Schools

You search for understanding. You search for knowledge. The Board of Education guides you in your search. This group of citizens has final authority over the activities of the Wilson City Schools. Being a member of the School Board is an honor and a grave responsibility. A profitable future for the youth of Wilson is their aspiration.

Mr. George S. Willard has served as Superintendent of the Wilson City Schools and as Secretary of the School Board for five years.

The Board of Education helps youth search with hope that they may find their place in society.

Board of Education

Mrs. Stuart Walston, Mr. B. B. Plyler, and Mr. R. E. Kirkland.

Administration

Mr. W. Willard Woodard has earned several titles—Father Confessor, Jack-of-All-Trades, Picture of Patience. Mr. Woodard daily fills these and other roles while serving as principal of Ralph L. Fike Senior High School. He shows a sincere interest in each individual connected with the school. Mrs. Rosa Brandon capably assists with the duties in the office. Through her years of service, she has become, in fact, a vice-principal. Mr. Woodard and Mrs. Brandon form a capable team, able to conquer any problem.

MR. W. WILLARD WOODARD, Principal

Marshals represent the intellect of our school. They are chosen on the basis of scholarship and character. The faculty selects them according to their grades for two and one-half semesters. The marshals are chosen from the sophomore and junior classes, and they serve as ushers at the graduation exercises.

"Ugh, vegetables," moan hungry sophomores.

Mrs. Aycock, librarian, checks out books for S. Hubbard, H. Walston, and M. Rose.

"Bus travel is slow, but dependable," agree G. Kelly, B. Moore, S. Broadhurst, E. Mangum, J. Maclaga, C. Thompson, and J. Lamm.

D. Farris, B. Sandifer, K. Edwards, F. Bissette, and P. Andrews admire the trophy case.

J. Moore, L. Lamm, B. Pridgen, A. Adams, M. High, D. Turner find that the courtyard enhances conversation.

"I light the candle of scholarship." This is the key phrase in the induction service of the National Honor Society. Attaining membership in the National Honor Society—available only to juniors and seniors with at least a 3.5 average—is an admirable achievement. The Society, the only honor organization at Ralph L. Fike, serves to create enthusiasm for scholarship, to promote leadership, to stimulate a desire to render service, and to encourage the development of character among the students.

Miss Clyde Hunter directs the Society's activities. Members serve as pages at College Night.

Lighting candles signifies membership in the National Honor Society to L. Alexander, D. Anderson, R. Askew, and L. Walls.

EDITORIAL STAFF OF ACCOLADE

As members of the editorial staff of the yearbook, we have grown in awareness of what surrounds us. We have learned that there are hidden beauties and meanings in everything that we observe. We have found that tasks that seem difficult and sometimes endless are really steps to greater learning and understanding. We have discovered that piles of pictures and hundreds of written words miraculously become a book.

These are our experiences—may you profit from them as we, the staff, have profited. These are our impressions recorded for you in the '63-'64 ACCOLADE.

STAFF ADVISERS: Mrs. Miriam M. Dunn, Editorial; Mrs. Katherine B. Fleming, Business.

While selling ads, we have seen much more in the economy of Wilson than a row of stores on Nash Street. This section, labeled "Advertisements," represents personalities. It represents the people who manage these stores. The merchants of Wilson show interest in us by assuming a portion of the cost of publishing this book.

It has been our pleasure to go "behind the scenes," to meet these people. They have made it possible for us to transmit our impressions to you.

JEAN BARTHOLOMEW, Editor
JANET AMERSON, Business and Advertising Manager

Here comes Jean Bartholomew, Editor of the Fike Hi-ZETTE. She smiles as she rushes down the hall. Mr. C. L. Odell, the Journalism adviser, nods knowingly. Jean has a "scoop" for the paper. The newspaper, a monthly publication, serves to entertain and to inform the student body of activities at Ralph L. Fike High School.

Janet Amerson, Business and Advertising Manager, along with senior staff members Harriet Barker, Robbie Leach, Judy Lancaster, Mary Ann Maclaga, Ann Polhill, R. Walters, and Ray Shepard, works hard writing features and editorials, proofreading, and laying out the newspaper. One goal toward which the Fike Hi-Zette staff works is a first-place rating by Columbia Scholastic Press Association.

The Fike Hi-Zette

Mr. Odell, adviser, glows with satisfaction as he reads a recent issue of the FIKE HI-ZETTE.

Members of the Journalism staff work on the layout of the next school paper.

Journalism students get instructions from Mr. Odell for checking galley proofs.

Features . . . News . . . Editorials . . . the paper, an important part of school life.

Senior staff members give final check to layout before publishing an edition of the FIKE HI-ZETTE.

Student Council

Is it a government? Yes, the Student Council is a form of democratic government in which each home-room has a representative. Rules and regulations are presented and voted on by the student representatives. The council must occasionally use its authority to enforce regulations.

The Student Council sponsors five special events during the school year. In the fall, this group is responsible for the Homecoming festivities—the parade, the floats, the sponsors, and the half-time show at the football game. In November, the council sponsors the annual Sadie Hawkins dance. During February, the Student Council gives the students and teachers a chance to match their brawn instead of their wits. Many unusual basketball techniques are displayed in the Student-Faculty game. The council sponsors Clean-Up Week. The final activity of the year is the election of the next year's officers. The council must select candidates that will be an asset to the student body.

Henry Skinner leads the Student Council this year. He is assisted by Linda Godwin, Vice-president; Cathy Stokes, Secretary; and Garland Ricks, Treasurer. Mr. Thomas Stott advises the group.

OFFICERS: Henry Skinner, President; Linda Godwin, Vice-president; Cathy Stokes, Secretary; Garland Ricks, Treasurer.

American Field Service is responsible for a foreign exchange student at Fike. The student officers and adult officers work together to make all arrangements for securing a student and placing him or her in a home-away-from-home atmosphere in Wilson.

Miss Ute Hackbarth from Bonne-Eichel, Germany, is our foreign student this year. She has made her home with the W. C. Herrings. Ute is a talented Miss who has added much to our school and town.

Mr. Woodard and Mrs. Crawley, with the adult leaders, are the advisers of the A.F.S.

OFFICERS: Donnie Johnson, Chairman; Judy Boone, Secretary.

U. Hackbarth relaxes with new friends H. Barker, J. Barnes, and J. Owens.

Mrs. W. C. Herring welcomes A.F.S. daughter U. Hackbarth upon arriving at her Wilson home.

OFFICERS: Bill Simons, President; Marsha Beaman, Vice-President; Linda Godwin, Secretary-Treasurer; Mr. Odell, Adviser.

"What is the government's role in providing medical care for citizens?" The Debate Club began its year by doing research on this topic. The official debates began in February with tournaments held by the North Carolina Debating Union. Mr. C. L. Odell advises the club in this, its first year of existence. As a learning process, he criticizes debates held among the members. The most argumentative members include Bill Simons, President; Marsha Beaman, Vice-president; and Linda Godwin, Secretary-Treasurer.

Debate Club

First row: M. Beaman, L. Godwin, T. Watson, T. El Ramey, M. A. Beaman.
Second row: J. Newton, R. Greene, B. Simons, Mr. Odell, adviser; D. Riley, J. Mylum.

New scope has been added to the activities of R.L.F.H.S. this year. The Drama Club, advised by Mr. Sowers and Mr. Teague, is one of the new organizations. This group has given four performances during the year. Through these presentations, the members have learned the principles of stage design, make-up, costuming, and production.

With Garland Ricks, President, Teri El Ramey, Vice-president, and Jo Ann House, Business Manager, this organization has opened new facets in the world of drama for Fike students.

G. Ricks, J. Barbely, J. House and members plan next Dramatics Club production.

Future Teachers of America

"Oh! to be a teacher someday," may emit from an F.T.A. member, for this future teacher organization has as its primary purpose to enhance interest in teaching as a profession.

Juniors and seniors who plan to become teachers are members of this club with Miss Doris Thorne, adviser.

The F.T.A. is a member of the National Education Association and the North Carolina Education Association.

During the year, the members enjoyed enlightening programs based on the opportunities, requirements, and services of a teacher.

The future teacher of today may be in command of her own class tomorrow.

Miss Thorne gives future teachers, E. Riley, P. Woodard, and B. Langley, tips on the profession.

OFFICERS: Carol Heeden, President; Janet Winstead, Vice-President; Linda Walls, Secretary; Terry El Ramey, Treasurer; Becky Jenkins, Reporter.

"Will you be my valentine?" asked A. Jaynes and S. Umphlett.

OFFICERS: Wanda Baucom, President (not pictured); Lindy Clark, Vice-president; Edith Bridgers, Secretary; Marshal Conyers, Treasurer.

"Parlez-vous français?" If your answer is "oui," it is likely that you are a member of Le Cercle Français. This organization for French students provides programs of cultural, geographical, and historical interest. Club activities include an annual banquet and working at concession stands. Mrs. Sue Warren guides this group of future linguists.

The Keyette Club

Our special "K's" are identified as the Keyette Club of Ralph L. Fike. These girls are also recognized by the "K" on the blue and gold background that decorates their sweaters or blouses.

The Keyettes are a service organization with their motto "To serve all," the school, the church, the community.

To become a member of this all girl club, one must have and maintain at all times a "C" average. These girls must be ready to serve when called upon by civic, church, or school functions.

With Nan Shannon, President; Judy Lancaster, Vice-president; Janet Amerson, Secretary; Bobbie Ellis, Treasurer; and Miss Diane Broughton, Adviser; the Keyettes have sold football programs, sponsored concession stands, helped needy families at Thanksgiving and Christmas, entertained the students and faculty with their annual Keyette Follies, and attended church in a group once each month.

This sister organization to Key Club International, renders unlimited service and upholds the tradition, "We're Keyettes willing to serve."

"Deck the Halls with boughs of Holly." Keyettes present their annual Follies.

The Key Club

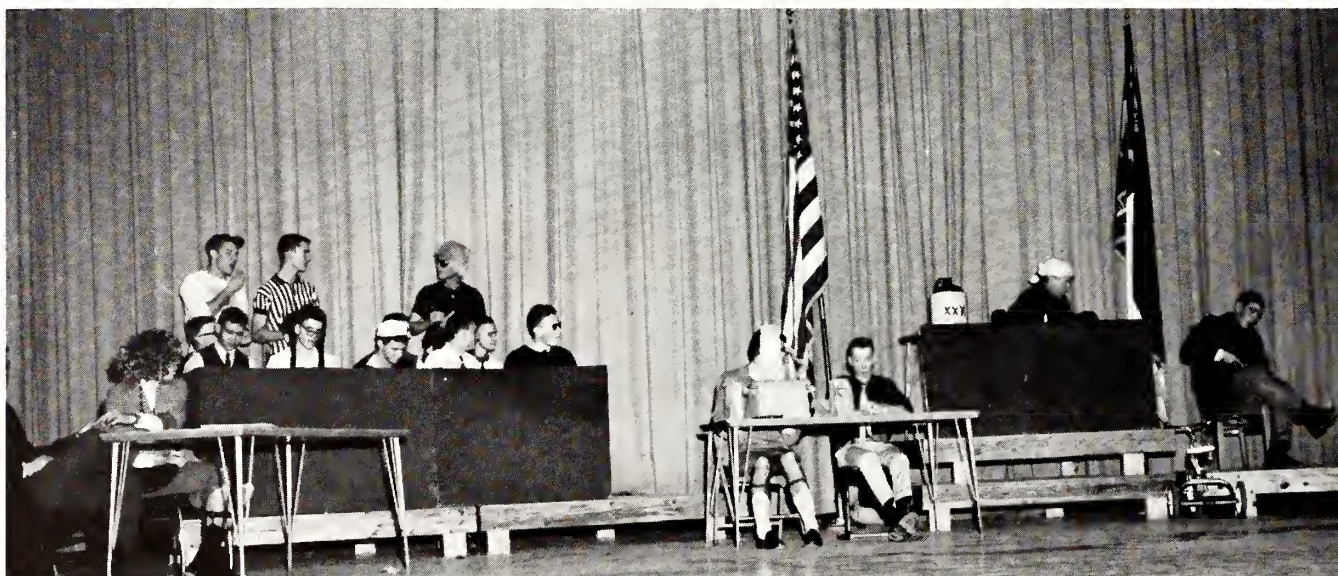

Stressing the need of worship, attending church, serving the community and school are the major aims of this service organization, the Key Club International, which is sponsored by the Kiwanis Club.

This all male organization also wears a "K" and this "K" may easily stand for the key of service that is so willingly rendered by the members. They sponsor Thanksgiving and Christmas opportunities, assist the

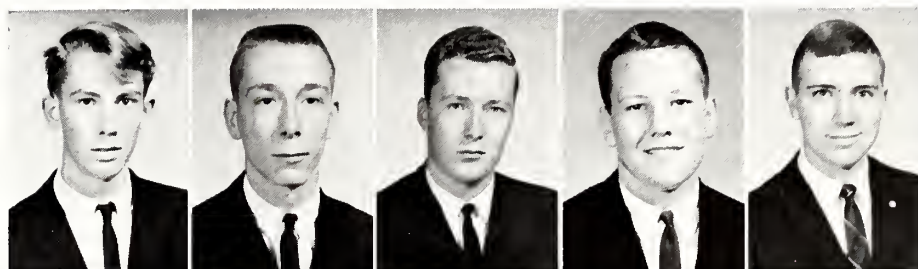

P.T.A., help the Kiwanis Club, solicit funds for the Heart Fund Association, and are on hand for concession stands and all school functions.

With William Hunter, President; John Wilson, Vice-president; Dillon Robertson, Secretary; Tommy Smith, Treasurer; and Mr. Francis Collins, Adviser; this club works diligently to uphold its motto "Service above all."

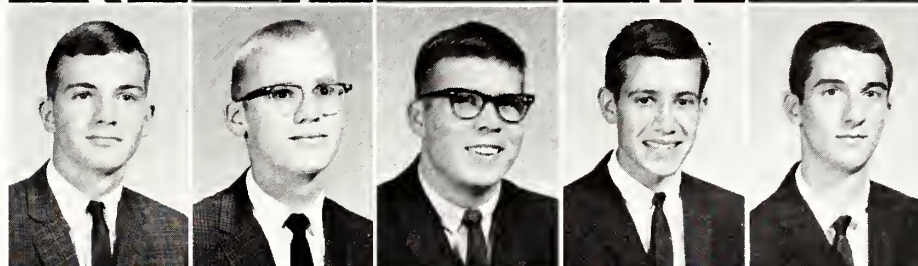

"Will the court please come to order!" The Key Club entertains the student body.

"Candy, ironing board covers, novelties, anyone want to buy?" is the cry of the Future Business Leaders of America during their door-to-door variety sale.

The members of this business club strive to develop business leaders and to encourage scholarship among students in the business department.

"Service, education, and progress" is the motto of the F. B. L. A. This is evident as one observes their many activities during the school year. Their year is highlighted by the Installation and Initiation Banquet at Parkers, attending the State Convention, and sponsoring a needy family at Christmas. Their outstanding program of the year was the proper use of Parliamentary procedure. All club and class officers and sponsors were invited to attend this special program.

Mrs. Jean Harriss is the competent adviser for this group, who . . . train today, the business leaders of tomorrow.

Future Homemakers of America

Winning a blue ribbon for the construction and theme of an exhibit at the County Fair started the year "off with a bang" for the Future Homemakers of America. A large number of the members attended the District II Rally at New Bern in early October. These active girls sold Christmas cards and stationery in order to enlarge the club's treasury. The F.H.A. sponsored a Mother-Daughter Banquet and a flower show. Under the supervision of Mrs. Mildred Bullard, the members of the F.H.A. gain experience in all phases of homemaking.

Playing a certain amount of time at one or more sports gives sophomore, junior, and senior boys an opportunity to become a member of the Monogram Club. Having lettered in a sport, the boys wait anxiously for their senior year, for this is the year that each boy receives his blue sweater with the gold "W" on it. These sweaters are worn proudly.

Activities of the Monogram Club include working at concession stand and having a picnic in the spring. The officers are Pat Neal, President; Donnie Howell, Vice-president; Edward Clark, Secretary; and Coach Paul Marklin, Adviser.

The Booster Club

"Yea, Fike-Beat Rocky Mount" don the ribbons attached to small footballs. The selling of these tags is the major money-making project of the Booster Club.

At football and basketball games the members sit as a group and give support to the cheerleaders. Every member works diligently to promote good school spirit and sportsmanship and to give the team pep. Linda Godwin and Bobbie Ellis, officers, are always on hand to lead the Boosters at games and to promote club activities.

Frank Wenger, Vice-president; Robert Greene, Secretary; and Ray Winstead, Treasurer; and the teachers of the science department round out the directors of this organization.

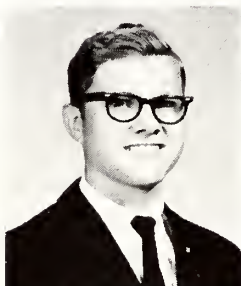

With the emphasis that is placed on science today, scientific courses are more popular with students. The Science Club gives these students an opportunity to further their knowledge in these areas of interest through varied programs by guest speakers and prominent scientists.

The members learn much through their individual research as they work on a project for the Science Fair.

Industrial Cooperative Training

"Learning by doing" might express the purpose of Industrial Cooperative Training. Members of the class receive instructions related to their special interests. At the same time, students receive practical training in the fields of their intended vocations. Students are challenged by such trades as building and mechanical maintenance, dry cleaning, carpentry, farm equipment management, radio announcing, office work, and nursing. All students are under the supervision of their employers. Mr. Thomas Stott teaches and advises the participants at school and on the job.

Varsity Band

As a band member, you become aware of musicians and all types of music. You search for skill and musical technique under the supervision of Mr. Andrew C. Preston, the band director. To your amazement, you find that you can play difficult music well.

You, as a band member, participate—in halftime shows at football games, in parades, in Christmas concerts, in school assemblies, in the Spring Concert, and in contests. Many excel—Kay Jones, Linda Godwin, Laura Hairr, Bill Boles, Garland Ricks, and Tommy Watson having played in the District All-State Symphonic Band at Greenville. You, a band member, find that a unified effort is rewarding. A superior rating in grade four music was earned by Fike's band last year. School ends, but not band activities. Individual practice is necessary throughout the summer. The new year begins in August when the entire band begins rehearsal for another year.

Majorettes

Marsha Beaman, head majorette, and Bob Stamper, drum major.

Under the leadership of Marsha Beaman, head majorette, and Bob Stamper, drum major, our majorette corps gained much acclaim. To be eligible for the corps, a girl must be a member of the Varsity Band. These girls practice many long hard hours to perfect their precision drills. The results of their efforts were visible at the half-time of every home football game when the majorettes led the band around the field. Much credit is due the majorette corps for their excellent half-time presentations and their outstanding performances in parades and school concerts.

E m a n o n s

"Night Train" blares from the auditorium. The Emanons, a dance band composed of Fike students, play for school functions and at civic affairs. Its members, with Doug Bostick as student leader, further their musical knowledge through these experiences and enjoy the opportunities to perform.

These boys practice weekly and must be quite good at playing the instrument of their choice. Mr. Preston serves as adult director.

"Practice makes perfect," say the Emanons.

Warm-up is necessary for a good rehearsal.

Jumping from the junior high band to Varsity Band is too great a change for most band students. This transition is modified by another year of instruction in the Sophomore Band. Mr. Andrew C. Preston leads these future Varsity Band members.

Choir

Forty voices compose the Fike Choir. The choir is a workshop in basic fundamentals, for good choral music requires a thorough understanding of all phases of the art of singing.

The choir has taken on a different look this year with its new director, Mr. Andrew Preston, at the podium.

This group is seen and heard at the Christmas Concert, Stunt Night, and other special programs during the year.

As these members raise their voices in song, it is evident that their desire to be a part of good music is fulfilled.

"Softer now," directs Mr. Preston.

Mr. Preston reviews musical terminology with choir students.

Homecoming

Homecoming activities—from the construction of floats at Wainwright's Warehouse to the crowning of the queen—are carried out in a fever of excitement.

"I don't care if it is 9 o'clock. We've got to have some more napkins tonight."

"Is there enough wood for the bonfire?"

"Hurry or we'll miss the parade!"

"Look, the majorettes are twirling fire!"

"Oh, they're crowning the queen!"

"I just can't wait until Homecoming next year!"

Homecoming is one of Fike's most outstanding events.

This is the one night of the year that the gals choose and catch their favorite fellows. The boys are treated to supper and numerous snacks. Many are presented "exotic" corsages by their gals. Judges award the couple dressed in the most original costumes five dollars apiece. After the dance, many couples attend the Sadie Hawkins' late show, financed by the girls, of course. It is a gay night of fun and frolic for all.

R. Leach and R. Frady were chosen best dressed "Dogpatchers."

Stunt Night Royalty—William Hunter, King, and Ann Polhill, Queen.

Stunt

"Welcome to Stunt Night, 1964!" The Junior girls open the show to the strains of "Coming Up Roses," after which the Bellets plead, "Let Us Entertain You." The influence of the Beatles is prevalent, as shown by the "Sardams" and the "Spirits." Our foreign exchange student is featured in the senior girls' version of a Hootenanny, called "Ute-nanny." History is revived as "Went With the Breeze" takes us back to the Civil War period.

The audience, solemn during the presentation of the Stunt Night Court, cheers when Ann Polhill and William Hunter are crowned Queen and King.

Stunt Night was made possible by the hard work of Mrs. Brooks and Mr. Stott, faculty advisers, Judy Lancaster and Henry Skinner, co-chairmen, and all participants.

Welcome to Rome! You walk down the Appian Way into the garden of the gods and goddesses. You are greeted by strains of music. "The Ascots" are playing for the annual Junior-Senior Prom at Fike. The sophomore waiters and waitresses entertain the guests at the Fountain of Trivi with song and dance, while the band takes an intermission. The dance continues until twelve. Then the Venus's in long dresses turn back into Becky's and Sue's.

"Proms are a great deal of fun," say L. Jordan, P. Hester, D. Anderson, and B. Wallace.

Football, basketball, baseball, tennis, golf, track—Fike is active in all major sports in the 4-A conference. The student body is proud of the effort that its boys make.

“When the going gets tough, the tough get going.” This, a favorite motto of coaches, applies not only to athletics, but also to daily life. Playing sports is living a lesson in citizenship. Participants realize that whether they win or lose is not important. Whether they do their best is the measure of merit.

Cyclones in Action . . .

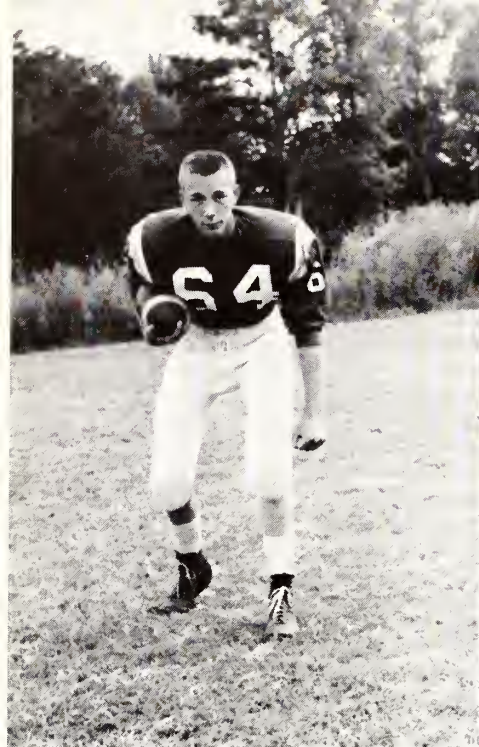

Bad luck seemed to haunt the Cys in every game this season. In practice and pre-game warm-up, the Varsity squad came onto the field bubbling with energy and ready to "get out there and win." However, a victory was not to be. The Fike football jinx stepped in each time and seemed to push the ball for the opposing team.

First the squad encountered 250-pound giants with their bruising blocks and crushing tackles. This did not appear to be enough, for behind this wall of giants stood four speed-demons lurking in the backfield—ready either to crash through the line or scamper around end.

Although the spirits of the Cys were dampened, they never gave up. They faced each foe with determination and with heads held high.

T. Smith closes in as a "Red Devil" flashes by.

"We've got the pep!" yell the cheerleaders at a pep rally.

The Fike Cheerleaders await the crowds prior to a pep rally.

Varsity Cheerleaders

"We got the zip, we got the pep." This cheer describes the cheerleaders at R. L. Fike High School. This all-girl squad raises the spirit of the teams and students with their hearty yells. These girls can be found almost every afternoon preparing for a game.

Many hours are spent painting signs and planning pep rallies. This industrious group begins practice in August. The success of the athletic program is largely dependent upon the cheerleaders.

First row: D. Harriss, head; T. Rose, mascot. Second row: G. Oates, D. Boykin, R. Collins, L. Stallings, R. Windham. Third row: C. Herring, S. Auger, C. Killebrew, J. Dickens.

Honor Day

This is the day that the boys of the gridiron and senior athletes have long awaited. Yes, Honor Day has arrived. Awards are to be given. Sweaters for seniors are to be presented. Who is to receive the coveted Most Valuable Player Award?

Mr. Clint Farris, a favorite supporter of the Fike Athletic program, presented Donnie Howell with the M.V.P. Award. The coaches presented sweaters to senior athletes, certificates to boys who had already lettered, and letters to those who have earned them.

This annual event gives the school officials an opportunity to thank the members of both the Varsity and Junior Varsity football teams, the coaches, and cheerleaders for their devoted efforts.

"Is this what you have been waiting for?" Coach Marklin presents M. Herring his sweater.

"Congratulations, Donnie." C. Farris and W. High present D. Howell with the Most Valuable Football Player Award.

P. Warren receives a football award as J. Balkcum, C. Dempsey, D. Neeland, M. Herring, and W. Stancil await their turn.

First row: A. Rehm, D. Bottoms, P. Pearce, B. Barnes, B. Jones, R. Tabb, J. Stokes, J. Lewis, J. Pappas. Second row: J. Lamm, M. Bumgardner, C. Lane, H. Dew, H. Lee, T. Howell, H. Walston, R. Vick, R. Griffin, D. Vick, B. Gill, B. Umphlett, H. Anderson. Third row: J. Stancil, D. Turner, J. Harriss, F. Bisette, H. Vick, T. Farris, J. Carr, H. Monson, J. Bass, T. Goard, W. Brooks, R. Watkins.

Junior Varsity

Recording six wins and one tie against two losses speaks well for this year's Junior Varsity football squad. This squad was never outclassed, although it was usually outweighed. What they lacked in size and experience, they compensated for by displaying the ability to hustle and a sincere desire to win.

With the experience gained this season and by improving their skills and retaining their ability to hit hard, this squad as Varsity Cyclones should be able to bring to Fike a season with victories, if not a completely victorious one.

H. Walston cuts back into the line as a teammate throws a block.

Unidentified Juclone snuffs out an end run deep in the opponent's territory.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

During February, interested girls play in an intramural tournament. The games are held in the Fike gym after school. The 1964 Champions were Grace Baker's team. The team co-captained by Linda Godwin and Linda Stallings were runners-up. Other teams participating were those captained by Susan Broadhurst, Donna Taylor, and Beverly Cassidy. Mrs. Mary Smith supervises this intramural activity.

Mrs. Smith, physical education teacher, advises girls' basketball.

Girls' Basketball

C. Baker, Y. Bean jump high for the ball as B. Barnes watches.

Playing hard to ring the basket are D. Bissette, C. Baker, Y. Bean, and M. Cherry.

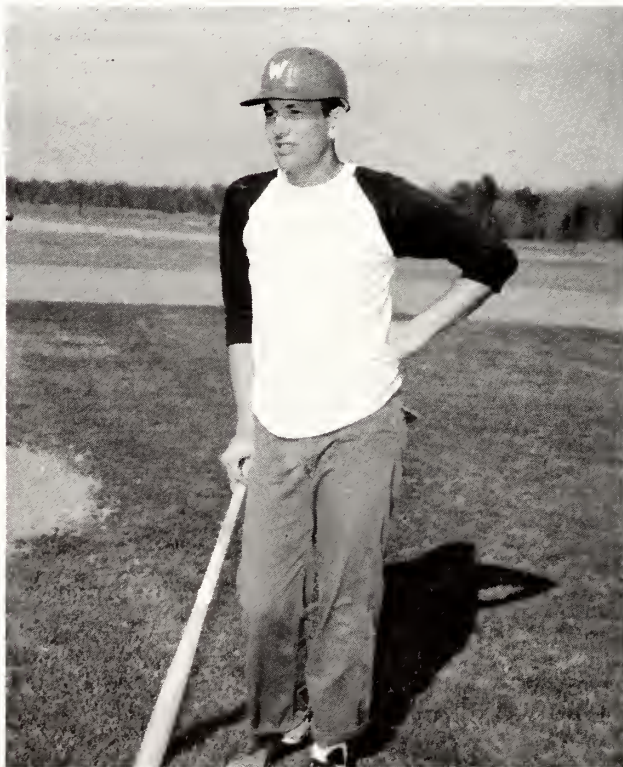

First row: Coach P. Blake, D. Fulford, R. Winstead, R. Mangum, D. Robertson, G. Matthews, D. Howell, T. Owens. Second row: Head Coach G. Ferrell, J. Talton, E. Bradley, A. Carnahan, B.

Hayes, B. Thompson, G. Farmer, T. Bryant, B. Elliot. Third row: D. Riley, mgr., J. Williams, E. Minchew, G. Bissette, D. Barnes, D. Barnes, R. Poythress.

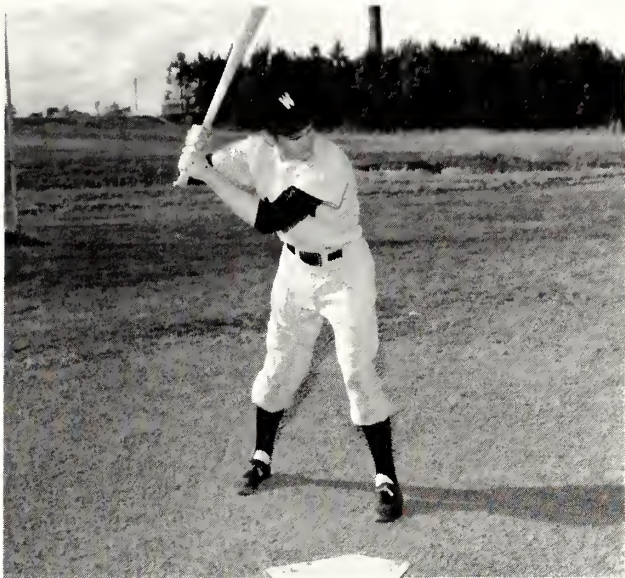

Baseball

Mr. Gilbert Ferrell, baseball coach, surveys the 1964 team.

Coach Gilbert Ferrell awaits Fike's 1964 baseball season with optimism. Experience is the key to a winning record, and the baseball team has twelve returning lettermen. Five of these twelve were among the starting nine last year. The mound strength is bolstered by three senior pitchers.

In early March, the team began practice in preparation for the eighteen game season. The first of twelve conference games will be played April 1.

E. Minchew steps up to the plate.

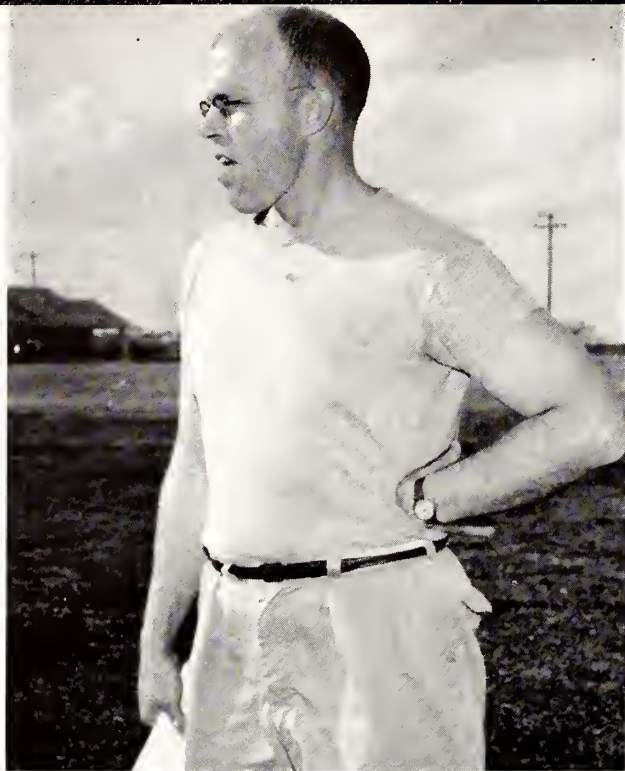

"I'll get it!" R. Mangum prepares to catch a line drive.

"Clean the bases, Royce," instructs Coach Ferrell.

Cyes hurlers: D. Barnes, E. Bradley, and D. Howell.

Coach Weir barks commands to team members.

Track

Field and track competition is keen in North Carolina's 4-A conference. Fike's track team participates in high jump, broad jump, discus, shotput, and javelin events. Sprinters compete in the 100, 220, and 440 dashes.

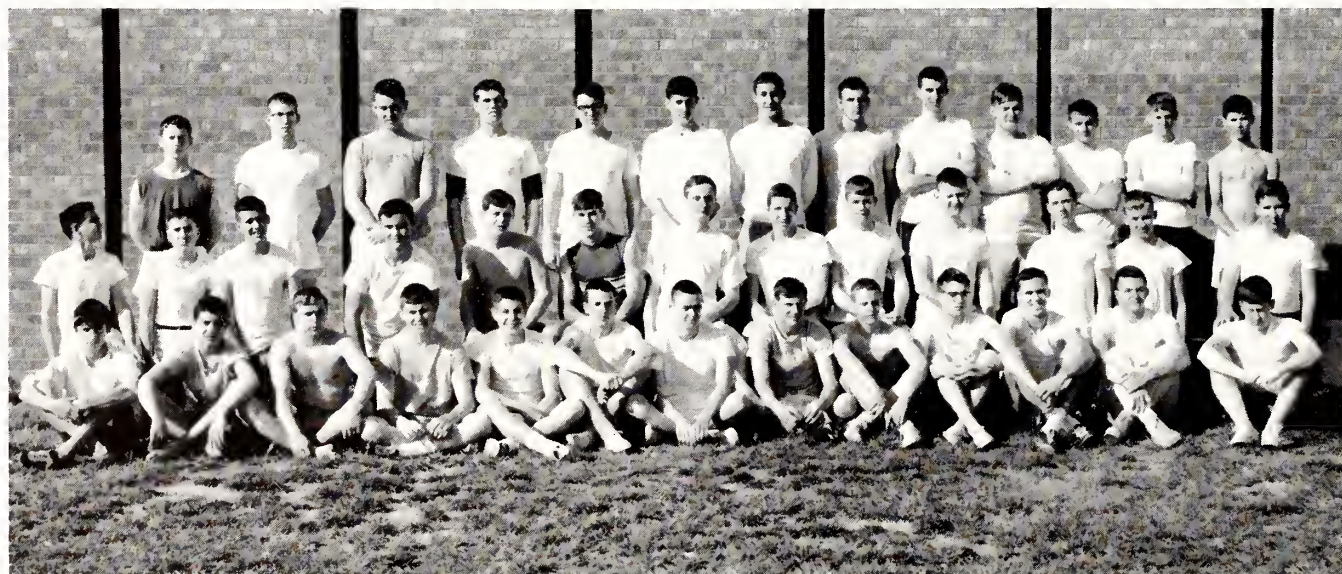

Members of the track team must be in top physical condition. Attitude is also decisive in determining success in a track event. Mr. Bill Weir coaches these boys in field and track activities.

"On your mark, get set, go!" W. Stancil, S. White, A. Boykin, H. Rodgers, and F. Ferguson await the starting pistol.

H. Walston, B. Umphlett, E. Etheridge, T. Boone, D. Williamson, R. Stott. Third row: H. Anderson, H. Severance, B. Moody, J. Bass, J. Carr, J. C. Harris, H. VanRockel, A. Boykin, M. Goodwin, J. Green, B. Dixon, M. Conyors, B. Stamper.

ton, C. Harriss, K. Denny, L. Moore, B. Simons, J. Hester, D. Johnson, P. Warren, H. Rodgers.

This year's tennis team, coached by Mr. John Green, will feel the loss of six seniors, but the returning lettermen plus new members should retain the strength of last year. This team should be able to boast a winning season in the tough 4-A tennis conference. Each player must strive for his goal. He must work diligently to improve his game.

Tennis

JOHN GREEN, tennis coach.

B. Boles chips out of a sand trap.

Golf Coach Paul Marklin demonstrates proper stance for hitting a tee shot.

G o l f

Although the golf team has only three returning lettermen, the team possesses much talent and should do well in competition.

Tommy Smith, Sid Bruton, and Tommy Davis, returnees, with a number of juniors and sophomores, add strength and depth to the team, coached by Mr. Paul Marklin.

The scores of the games may not always be up to par, but the effort of the golfers will be better than par.

First row: W. Jones, T. Smith, C. Dempsey, B. Boles. Second row: S. Roberson, R. Watkins, S. Bruton, S. Irvin, T. Davis.

Recipients of Most Valuable Player awards: K. McMillan, football; R. Smith, golf; D. Creech, girls' basketball; B. Elliot, baseball; D. Turbeville, track. Not pictured: Jimmy Shackelford, basketball.

Spring Sports Honor Day

Members of the baseball team are honored at Spring Sports Honor Day.

S. Flowers, J. Emory, and J. Johnson receive girls' basketball awards from R. Watson.
